

Judge Roy Moore's opponent wants Transgender Bathrooms

"Doug Jones, the Democratic candidate for December's Senate special election in Alabama, found himself at the center of the hot-button issue of transgender people and the use of bathrooms and locker rooms in public schools after video emerged Monday in which Jones discussed the topic," reports Breitbart.

"We've got to protect them," Jones said when asked about the rights of transgender people in schools and bathrooms.

"According to the label on the video clip, Jones was speaking on the sidelines of a campaign stop he made last Thursday at the Macedonia Baptist Church in Daphne, Alabama.

In the clip, a woman asks Jones, "I know that you are for equal rights for everyone. Mr. Jones, what about transgender people in schools and bathrooms?"

"They were wrong to get rid of those Title IX Rules, you know," he answered. "They were wrong to ban transgender [people] from the military. Just wrong, wrong, wrong."

The YouTube clip is entitled "Doug Jones commits political suicide in Alabama Senate race."

[Dr. Chaps' comment: Alabama is not California. In AL the Republicans like Roy Moore protect children from predators, and women from abusive men seeking access to their public lockers. In CA the Democrats who agree with Doug Jones encourage boys to expose themselves to girls in public school bathrooms. President Obama demanded that child abuse, and President Trump rescinded that child abuse. Which do you agree with, Roy Moore or Doug Jones?]

Senate race TIED in Alabama: My interview with Roy Moore

I recently flew to Alabama to watch history unfold, the week Judge Roy Moore won the Republican primary for U.S. Senate.

Moore is not guaranteed a victory yet, since recent Fox poll predicts a 42% to 42% tie with the Democrat Doug Jones in the 12 December run-off election, with 16% undecided.

I interviewed Judge Roy Moore personally after his primary victory, for our TV show PIJN NEWS, and the man appeared very humble and thankful.

Three times Judge Moore stood up for my religious freedom (read details below).

And we know Moore opposes judicial supremacy, saying, "Unlike my opponent, I believe in a strict interpretation of the U.S. Constitution. I oppose judicial tyranny.

"If elected to the U.S. Senate, you can count on me to lead the charge to restore order and a respect for the Constitution and rule of law in our courts. I will oppose the confirmation of activist liberal judges.

"And I will support the impeachment of activist judges who are clearly legislating from the bench. It's time to remind the courts -- especially the lower courts -- exactly how they were created and directed in the first place."

I'm honored to know this man, and I wonder if you would take a moment to get involved.

Chaplain in Alabama with Roy Moore for Senate!

Last month I flew to Alabama, to report on and help the campaign of Judge Roy Moore for U.S. Senate. Today I attended his rally with Phil Robertson, Steve Bannon, and Nigel Farage. As a professional activist, I've known Judge Moore for 10+ years, and I pray he wins this race for Senate. The primary vote is today 26 Sep, the general election 12 Dec.

In 2006 when the Navy told me, a chaplain, that I could be punished by my commander if I prayed publicly "in Jesus' name," I took a stand.

But I was not alone. On 30 March 2006 I was joined by Alabama's Supreme Court Chief Justice Roy Moore, who flew to DC and stood with me outside the White House.

I prayed in Jesus' name in my chaplain's uniform, and Judge Moore explained the Constitution to the press.

When I was punished in a misdemeanor court, Judge Moore again flew to Virginia to stand at my side.

Then his Foundation for Moral Law helped me file appeals to correct my Naval Records. Although I lost my career, I thank God that Roy Moore helped me earn vindication by the U.S. Congress, who rescinded the bad policy for which I had been wrongly punished.

For 10+ years, Roy Moore stood for my personal religious freedom. He never asked me for a dime.

I know if he's elected the U.S. Senator from Alabama, he will defend your rights too.

Friends, our Congress must vote on the record, for or against pulpit freedom. Let's take a stand today, and demand free speech be restored to churches and pastors.

God Bless you, in Jesus' name,
